6000 ATTEND ROYAL FUNCTION

WINDSOR, Eng., June 21 .- Under the watchful scrutiny of several hundred Scotland Yarders 6000 persons today attended the brilliant garden party at Windsor arranged by King George and Queen Mary as a climax to the festivities of Ascot Week. Reports for several days past that the suffragettes would attempt a demonstration were the occasions of extraordinary precautions to prevent the admission of my unauthorized persons. All were required to present their invitation cards at the big gate but in fear that some tickets might be transferred or even forged, detectives shadowed everyone whose identity was not known to the gate officials and concerning whom there was the very slightest reason for suspicion. In addition their majesties and members of the cabinet were at all times practically surrounded by small squads of Scotland Ward offis cers in the guise of guests, while an unusually large force of uniformed police were on hand about the grounds. The guests, who included almost the entire membership of Parliament, the diplomatic corps and the lenders of European society, were brought from London by special train. The new democratic American Ambassador Walter H. Page, in or thodox sulk hat and "Prince Albert," with most of the embassy staff, enjoyed his first taste of royal hospitality. Queen Mary presided over the tea-urn in the royal tent and Da Page was one of the few who took their tea from her hands. The Prince of Wales and a few of his Oxford friends were present, the prince having come home for his 19th birthday celebration on the 23rd.
